Présentation de l'éditeur

Jessica thought that landing her dream job would make her life perfect. But when she found her boss to be ruthless and her co-workers to be less accepting, she began to rethink her career choice. With unresolved issues from her childhood surfacing, she wants to run, just as she always has. Adding to the drama the "hot" photographer, Mark begins to pursue her. Jessica can't decide if he's really interested or just out for one thing. With all her turmoil, vivid dreams that make no sense cause her even further distress. Join Jessica as she falls deep down the rabbit hole of life and faces conflict around every corner. Biographie de l'auteur Nadia grew up in the suburbs of Maryland, just outside Washington, D.C. Since childhood she has gravitated to writing fiction stories. In college Nadia pursued a career as a Photojournalist. She had many articles and photographs published by the college newspaper but ended up working for the Federal Government. With feelings that something was missing she sat down and talked about her inner desires to a good friend. That was when she was introduced to a book that would change her life. She read the book and knew it was not impossible to have a career as an author. She sat down and wrote her first novel in 30 days. Though it was not one to hit the shelves it was the spring board. Nadia is a devoted wife, and mother of three small children. In her spare time she keeps her children active in different activities, writing stories and playing softball.
